You've sensed and seen that there are more homeless people than ever in the Lansing area. You've heard about the horrific murders of homeless men on the River Trail. What do you need to know about all of this? What organizations have been working on housing security all along? What do they do? What challenges are they facing? What can we learn from homeless people themselves? How can we respond as a community in ways that keep us all safe, and also keep people sheltered? Knowledge is power.

Join us for a monumental panel discussion organized by the Lansing Interfaith Vision for Equity (LIVE). Get your questions answered by experts in the Q&A portion. You are guaranteed to leave knowing more than you did when you arrived.
